

Protocol and Application for Judges Clinics.

The following points should be considered before applying for a Judge's Clinic.

- All judge candidates must be members of an ANWE affiliated club.
- This is a two-day, face to face Clinic.
- The host club/state must book a venue, RSL, bowling and such clubs usually have a free conference room (air conditioned) this makes catering very easy. A whiteboard, projector and laptop (with media player) are required.
- Application must be made by a club/state to their ANWE state body to run the Clinic with a selected date
- State will then apply to the EPC for approval (EPC will advise the club/state directly if approved)
- Clubs/State will then select a judge educator to conduct the Clinic from those listed on the accredited judges list located under coaching and judging section on ANWE Website – <https://anwe.org.au/how-to-get-involved/#coachingandjudging>
- The judge educator will send a welcome letter to all candidates who have nominated and paid in full, with the "open rulebook test" to be completed by candidates prior to the Clinic.
- For a candidate to be successful they must attend both days of the Clinic
- Each candidate must take a written exam on the second day of the Clinic
- Pass mark of 80%
- The fee per applicant for each Clinic is a minimum of $100.
- The judge educator's fee is set at $350 per day or as agreed if there are multiple Judge Educators. ie trainees
- All judge educator expenses are to be paid by organising club ie travel, accommodation, airport parking, train/bus fares, postage and printing in accordance with fees – page 11 ANWE Judges Accreditation Framework 2020
- The organising club/state will pay ANWE Ltd a $50 registration fee per applicant sitting the exam. (Please ensure you add this amount onto the applicant fee)
